“God Man” on Good Friday

Dear Friends and Partners,

Greetings from Haiti. Good Friday was a great Friday for more than 1,300 kids that came to watch the animated version of “The Book of Hope” called “The God Man” in a covered public street.

Canadian missionaries Michel and Louise Charbonneau prepared the street and invited the kids. Many of them are part of the Charbonneau's Church in the same Port-au-Prince neighborhood.

After the movie, Living Stone Intern Ruben Marcellus gave an altar call (above) and more than 100 kids raised their hands to ask Jesus to come into their hearts and become their best friend. We think that made for a “Great Good Friday!”

GT Omaha Comes to Miragoane

Twelve friends from our home Church in Omaha came to minister in the provincial area of Miragoane. This very special group of short term missionaries held daily medical clinics, ministered to children, built school desks, and provided a marriage and family seminar for many local residents. See the back page for pictures of the great week they had!

Big News for Some Good Friends

Jarman and Mary Esperance are now living in the States. They came to spend time with our team and Manuska and Daniel the two children they are adopting from Haiti. What a beautiful Family! (Turn Over) →
